

SAFETY TOWN FOR TOTS

The pert brunette adjusted her sunglasses against the strong Florida sun, smoothed her skirt down around her knees, placed a hand on the wheel of her convertible and waved goodbye to her mother as she started off.

BLAM!... She bashed into the rear of another car stopped for a red light in front of her. Instead of death, serious injury or heavy property damage, this smashup drew only a few terse words from Deputy Sheriff William Harvey.

The careless driver, five-year-old Gloria Perez, had just been taught a lesson in safety. Each summer for 11 weeks deputy sheriffs teach three safety courses a day to children from four to nine years old in the Miami area. Sponsored by a local newspaper and shopping center, this "Safety Town" graduates as many as 400 youngsters each week.

Safety Town is a miniature city, kid-sized, built on a 322 by 122-foot section of the shopping center's parking lot. It's complete with buildings, working traffic signals and pedal cars and bicycles for the kids to ride.

Local girl scouts assist the deputies, teaching the children proper hand signals when operating vehicles, the right way to cross a street and what the different shapes and colors of traffic signals mean.

Lessons last about an hour and a half each day. The officers first explain safety to the children who then take to cars and bicycles for practical experience.

The week-long course, which includes an eye examination for each child, winds up with graduation exercises and diploma presentations each Friday.

Gloria proudly accepts her diploma from an officer after successfully completing the week-long course in safety.

Youth Asked For It!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.
Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

"Blind Date" Takes A Walk
Dear Helen: I met a boy long distance, by letter. He got my name from a teen magazine that published a poem of mine. We wrote to each other for two months and got to like each other as well as people can without meeting.
Then he made a date with me. He lives about 30 miles away. We were both nervous, but I thought everything was going quite well. Then, in the middle of the movie he excused himself. He never came back.
I had to call my folks and have them bring me home, and I was so embarrassed I cried for two days. I didn't think I was that bad! This was just about my first date, and it doesn't do much for my self-consciousness. I thought he was a real nice boy till then.
I never heard from him again. If he had got sick or anything, he would have written, or maybe he was just too chicken about dating a girl he didn't know. I keep thinking he really wants to see me again — I just have a feeling, because I know from his letters he isn't the type to ditch a girl.
Mostly I just want to know what happened. Would I be stupid to write him a little note? — Jilted Jill

Dear Jill: I read your letter the first time, and wrote: "Yes — there's no excuse for walking out on a girl."
Then I read your letter again and XX'd my answer out.
Follow your feminine intuition honey. If he doesn't answer your note, at least you'll know for sure you were jilted. If he does, well one of these days you'll be laughing together about "ner-

SYNTHETIC CARPETING provides outdoor comfort and color. To keep splinters out of youngsters or guests from tracking dirt, easy-care fabric that is mildew and moisture-proof finds a new dimension decorating patios, boat and swimming pool decks and terraces.

By AILEEN SNODDY Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Test-tube products have made a big difference in a family's life. The homemaker, especially, finds synthetics in carpeting and vinyl flooring tiles a boon in her cleaning schedule.

Care is uppermost in the homemaker's mind today since the woman who has a maid to tidy up from recreation room to rooftop daily is rare.

In addition to the lack of men and women who want to make a career in this particular service industry is the great urge couples have to entertain. Any woman who has tossed aside a dish towel at three in the morning after spiffing up after dinner guests invariably wishes for the return of the one or an end to the other.

Recently, an acquaintance in Manhattan revealed her solution to keeping her carpet clean while continuing to entertain. Her problem was doubled by the use of an outdoor terrace which city dwellers know collects an unbelievable amount of soot and incinerator ashes each day.

What is even more insidious, though, is that the gritty stuff seems to have more mobility than a Virginia creeper or pachysandra.

She solved her cleaning problem by laying an outdoor carpet. Of Hercules, the outdoor carpet is moisture-resistant, insect-proof and mildew-resistant.

About an hour before one even semisheers, then by all means line it throughout.

Use a hem 2 1/2 to 3 inches deep and put it in by hand.

If the silhouette is becoming to you, then make several dresses in the same style, varying your fabric enough to make each seem entirely different.

When a dress has only two body seams, such as we show, cut so the seam line will be a half-inch wider on each side than the pattern calls for. Seam lines are your structure lines and you want them wide enough to hold the dress to position on your body.

MAJOR LEAGUE STYLE—Gentlemen prefer blondes and 19-year-old pitcher Lee Meyers is no exception when it comes to actress Mamie Van Doren, who lists her age as 33. Miss Van Doren announced in Cedar Grove, N.J., that she and Meyers, who is still in the minor leagues, were married last month. The young pitcher is reportedly heir to a million-dollar fortune.

Dodgers Run Mantle Hits Win Streak Up to Five 2 Homers in Yank Split

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers are at it again, winning 'em by one run on the double.

The pitching hasn't been quite as overpowering as last year and the speed hasn't been as overwhelming, but the Dodgers suddenly have reverted to last year's pennant winning formula in running up a five-game win.

The latest was a come-from-behind 7-6 victory over Atlanta Friday night on Jim Lefebvre's tie-breaking double in the eighth inning. It gave the Dodgers their fifth successive one-run victory and a 19-8 record overall in games decided by that.

That's a .667 percentage in the tight ones, compared to last year's .533 when the Dodgers topped the National League with 32 one-run triumphs en route to the World Series. The only trouble is they're still in third place.

Despite the winning streak, the Dodgers remained four games behind the front-running San Francisco Giants, who rode Juan Marichal's three-hit pitching and a pinch-hit grand slam homer by Jim Davenport to a 7-2 victory over Cincinnati.

Second-place Pittsburgh closed to within two games of the top as Willie Stargell and Bill Mazer drove in seven runs in a 1-2, 9-2 doubleheader sweep of the New York Mets. Philadelphia edged the Chicago Cubs 5-4 and Houston whipped St. Louis 6-1.

In the American League, Baltimore edged California 2-1, Kansas City nipped Cleveland by the same score, Minnesota defeated Detroit 6-1, Boston swept the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and 5-1 and the New York Yankees downed Washington 7-5 after the Senators took the opener 7-6.

Stolen bases — Agee, Chicago, 28; Campaneris, Kansas City, 18.

Pitching (7 decisions) — S. Miller, Baltimore, 7-1, .875; Watt, Baltimore, 6-1, .857.
Strikeouts — Richert, Washington, 120; McDowell, Cleveland, 118.

HEAR THESE WORDS

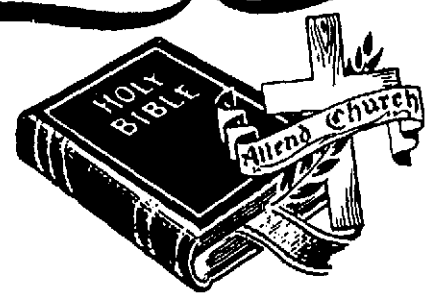

Worship In Church Every Week

It Says
Right Here

THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Williams Newspaper Features
P. O. Box 211, Ft. Worth, Tex.

We are travellers on the way. We want to arrive. We want good directions; we have not been this way before; we shall go on the path but once. How important, then, that we follow the right directions! Serious men have been crying through the centuries, "Which way shall I take?" Here is a man who has found it. Listen, look, read, with Him.

It's an old guide book and a good one. Its commands come with the authority of Heaven to earth, of God to man, of eternity to time. Centuries of human experience have declared them right. Your own soul recognizes their right to control. Be quiet and know the good and the true and the right. Hear the challenge!

Thou shalt worship! Our neighbors and family command, "Thou shalt work"; more important still is the ancient and imperious word, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God." Thou shalt keep the Sabbath! Be sure that you hold something sacred; some place, some time, some Person. Else all life becomes common, that is, secular or vulgar. Thou shalt honor! Whom shall we honor? Answer: the people nearest and dearest to you, the everyday folks with whom you live, and to whom you owe so much. Thou shalt not murder! But also, "Thou shalt not hate thy brother." Thou shalt not commit adultery! But also, "Thou shalt not lust," since the evil desire comes first. Thou shalt not steal! But also, thou shalt not covet or desire what belongs to another.

Aren't you glad for these clear clarion calls to conscience? Have you come to the place where you change the wording and say, "I must?" I must worship; I must keep holy days; I must honor my parents; I must be clean of thought and purpose. Change the second person to the first; "thou" to "I". God's commandments become my commandments, God's way becomes my way... "it says right here."

WIN AT BRIDGE

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The expression "counting the hand" represents bridge thought at its best. It also is fairly easy if you get in the habit of starting your count early and bear in mind that when you know how many cards a player holds in three suits then by simple subtraction from 13 you know the total in the fourth.

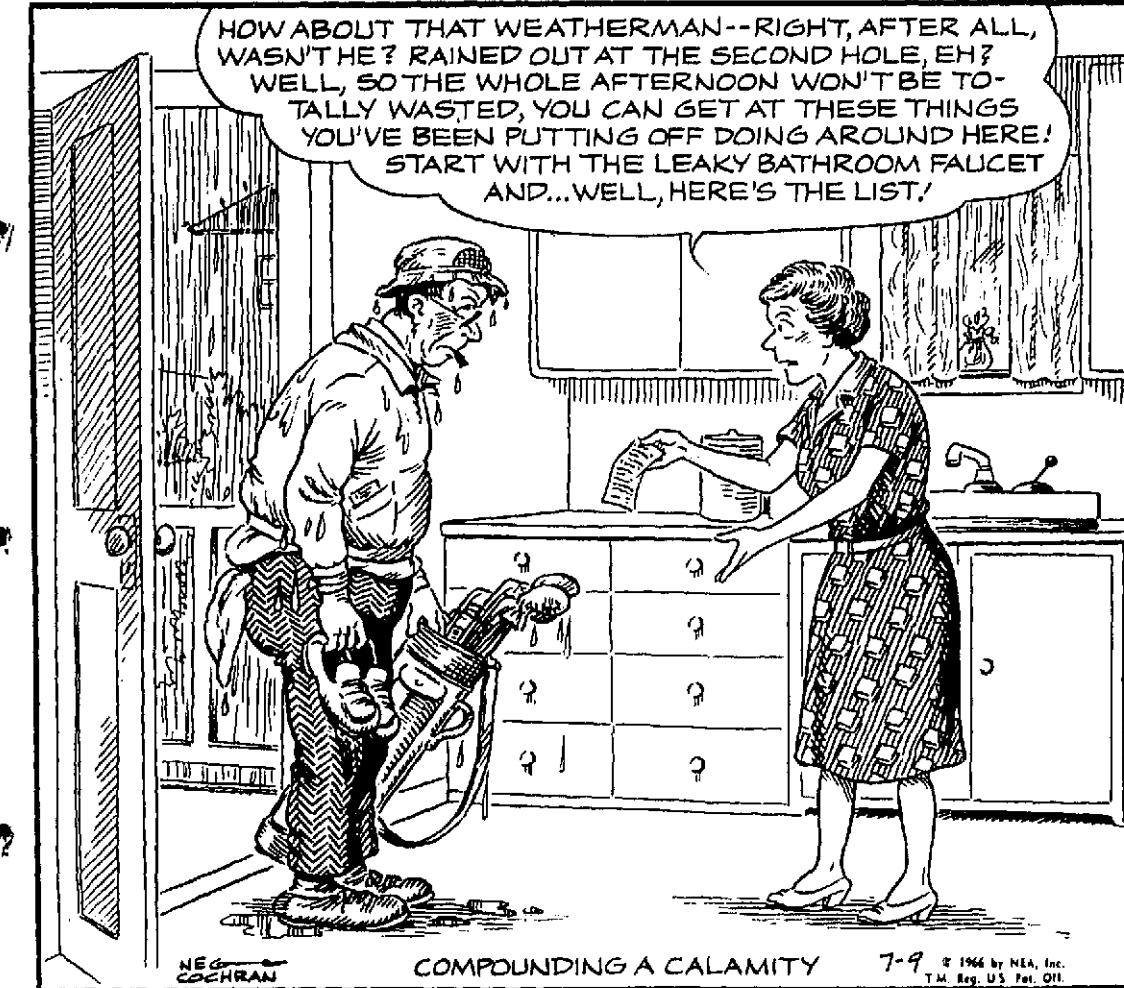

Everyone at the table except South scraped the bottom of the barrel in order to find bids. With 19 high card points, South was well within bounds when he jumped to three no-trump.

South won the second heart and went to dummy with the queen of clubs in order to lead the ten of diamonds for a finesse. West won with the king and, for want of anything better to do, returned the suit. Usually, when both sides play the same suit one is wrong but this time both sides were playing correctly.

South checked off two hearts for West. Had West held another heart, West would have led that suit.

South ran the rest of his diamonds while West followed. South checked off four diamonds. Then South took his ace and king of clubs and checked off two clubs when West discarded on the last club lead. This meant that West had started with five spades and was still holding four of them. East therefore held only one spade.

South played his king of spades. West took his ace and led the suit back. He couldn't do anything else because he was down to spades. South ducked in dummy and let the trick ride around to his ten spot. There was no danger in the play. South knew that East had no more spades just as surely as if East had exposed his hand.

WHAT DUKE ELLINGTON said about jazz in a song title could well apply to baseball: "It Don't Mean a Thing if It Ain't Got That Swing." Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew, pounding out a home run, appears to agree with the Duke.

Kobes and Athletics Synonymous at West Point

WEST POINT, N. Y.—(NEA)—It was 1939 and Frank J. Kobes Jr. of Crete, Neb., received a degree at West Point and a pair of gold bars.

Frank Kobes Jr. was one of the best athletes in the class of 1939, a regular end in football, a forward in basketball as well as a hurdler and weight man in track and field.

Since 1953, he has been director of physical education at West Point.

During that time, he has seen many athletes, none finer, however, than Frank J. Kobes IV, who was graduated this year.

The younger Kobes, like his father, played three sports (soccer, hockey, lacrosse) and earned nine varsity letters. He was the only

In soccer, young Kobes was a goalie, in hockey a forward and in lacrosse a midfielder. He also captained the lacrosse team this year.

Misunderstood Pitch

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The pitch came in high and a bit too tight, provoking a loud, incensed roar from the restless crowd. In the dugout you could imagine Bob Gibson laughing a bit and shaking his head.

Gibson, a 20-game winner for the St. Louis Cardinals, is one of the more articulate and intelligent among the baseball brood. He also is one of the most candid.

"I don't think the fans understand the brushback pitch," Gibson said, "just as they don't understand many of the other points of strategy in the game."

"To the fans, it looks as if you are deliberately throwing at the batter. But you're really not. I don't throw at a batter unless it's in retaliation for something the other team has done to one of our players."

"The brushback is an important part of a pitcher's game. What you're trying to do is make the batter wonder a bit. You throw them inside to keep them from leaning over into the outside pitches."

"If you get a guy who is lunging for the outside pitch and then all of a sudden you throw him inside and tight, he's got to start thinking about the next pitch."

Curt Flood, the Cardinals' leading hitter and most vulnerable to the knockdown pitch, joined the conversation.

"It's just the old theory of high and tight, low and away," he said. "The pitcher is just trying to keep the batter off balance. I agree with Bob that the fans probably don't understand this."

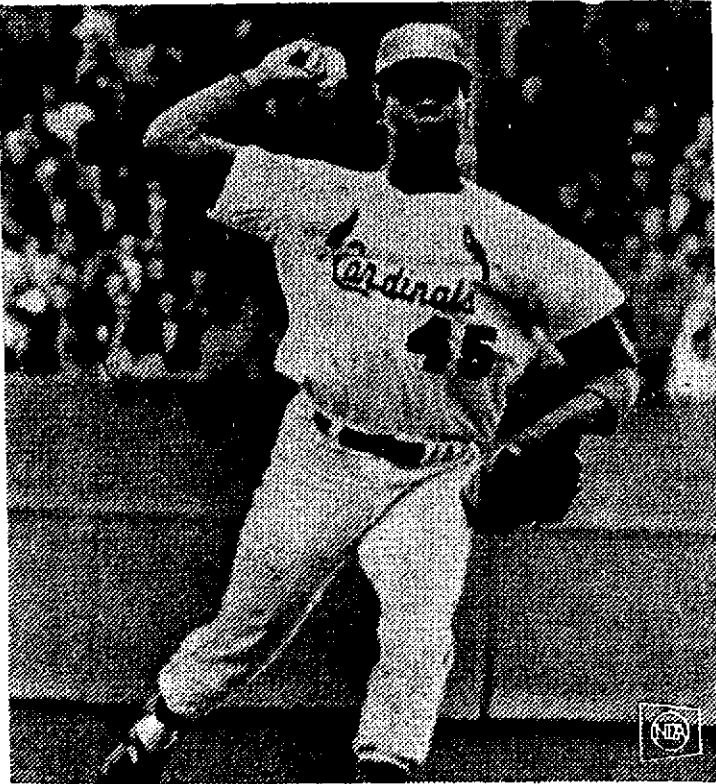

FRANK KOBES IV COL. FRANK KOBES JR.

Swinging Big Stick . . .

THE BALTIMORE ORIOLES, with Frank Robinson adding more power to the lineup, have been on top, or near the top, of the American League lead since the beginning of the season.

BOB GIBSON
"I don't throw at anyone . . . unless . . ."

"The trouble usually starts when a pitcher is getting hit hard. Then he starts getting mad."

"When a pitcher knocks a man down after a home run," Gibson said, "he's pouting. That's all. You'd think, if he was going to throw at someone, that he'd throw at the man who hit the home run. But he throws at the next batter. It doesn't make much sense."

"I know when I give up a home run, I've got no one to blame but myself for making a lousy pitch."

It was a situation like this which caused one of the bitterest arguments of the season in a game between the Minnesota Twins and Chicago White Sox. Both teams are threatening reprisals at their next meeting.

With Jim Perry pitching for the Twins, J. C. Martin of the White Sox hit a two-run homer. Al Weis was the next batter for Chicago. Perry promptly hit Weis in the back. When Perry came to bat, White Sox pitcher John Buzhardt hit him on the elbow.

It led to much verbal sparring with manager Sam Mele of the Twins charging that "one of the Chicago players told me Stanky ordered Bruce Howard to throw three inches behind the head of Joe Sparda at Detroit. A batter's first reaction is backward. He could get killed."

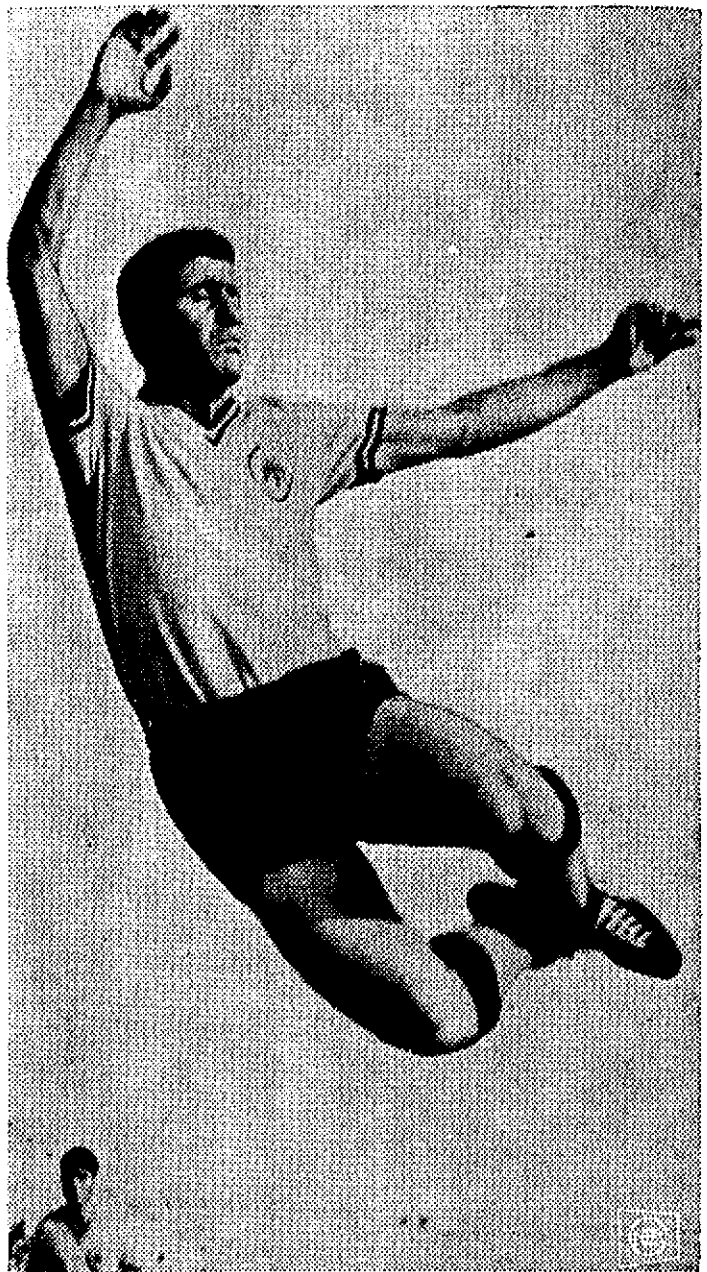

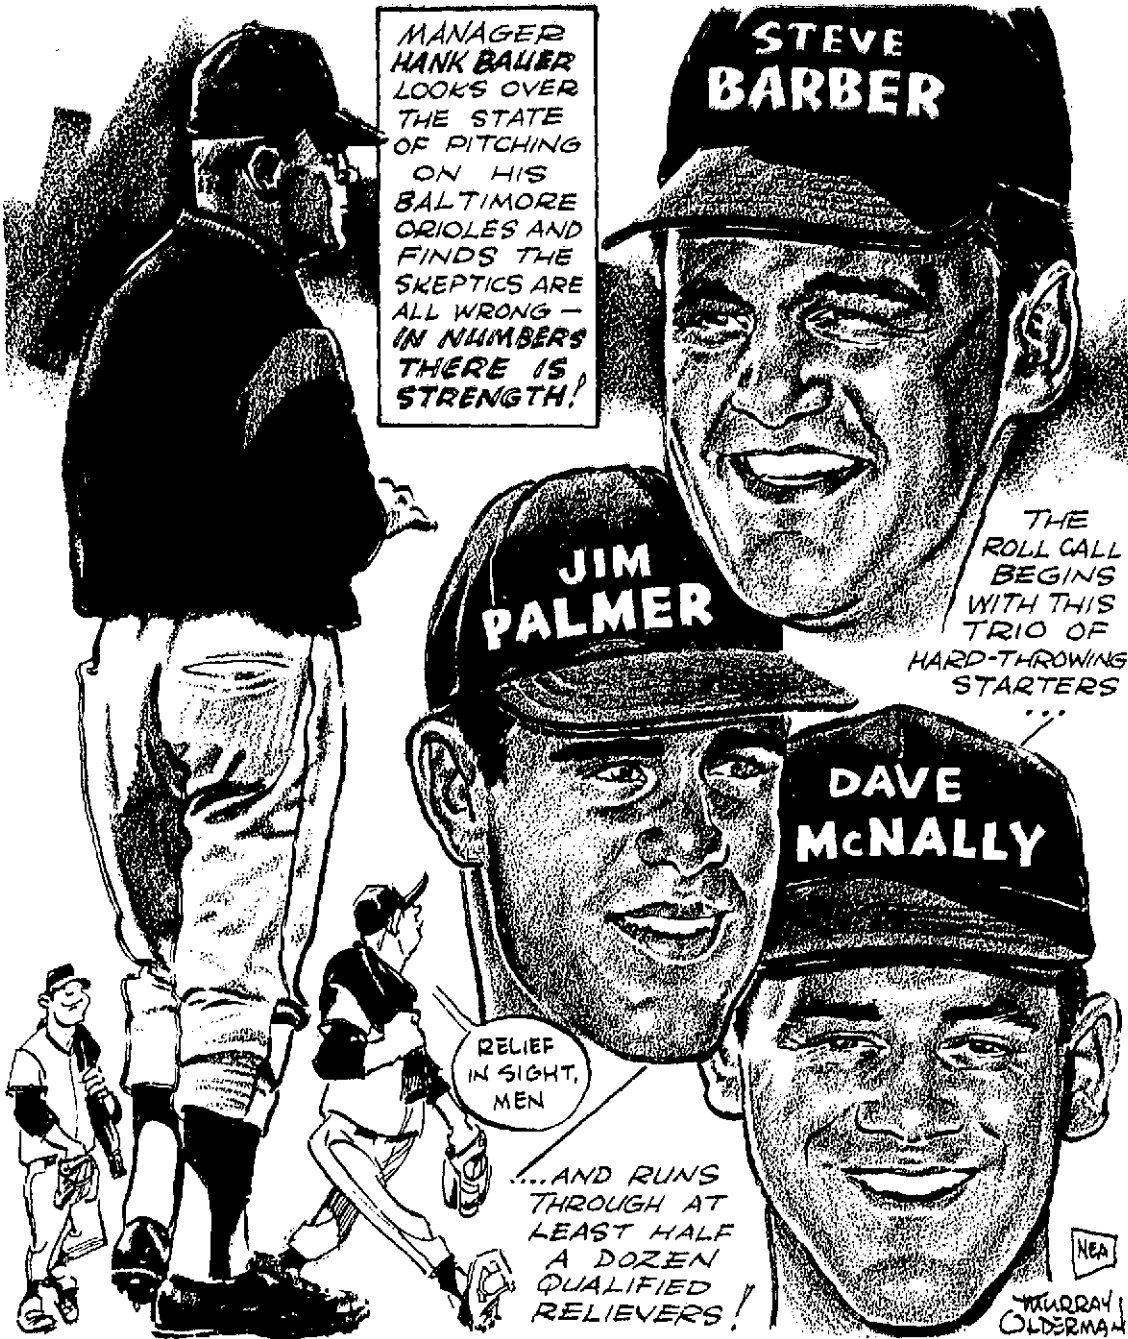

Stanky didn't deny the story.

"I'm a retaliation manager and it's going to be that way today, tomorrow and 10 years from now," he was quoted. "And I don't care if the authorities like it or not."

Gibson shrugged his wide shoulders. There have been—and will be—similar incidents throughout his career.

"Like I told you," Bob said, "that is a different situation. One that anyone can understand."

BY THE NUMBERS

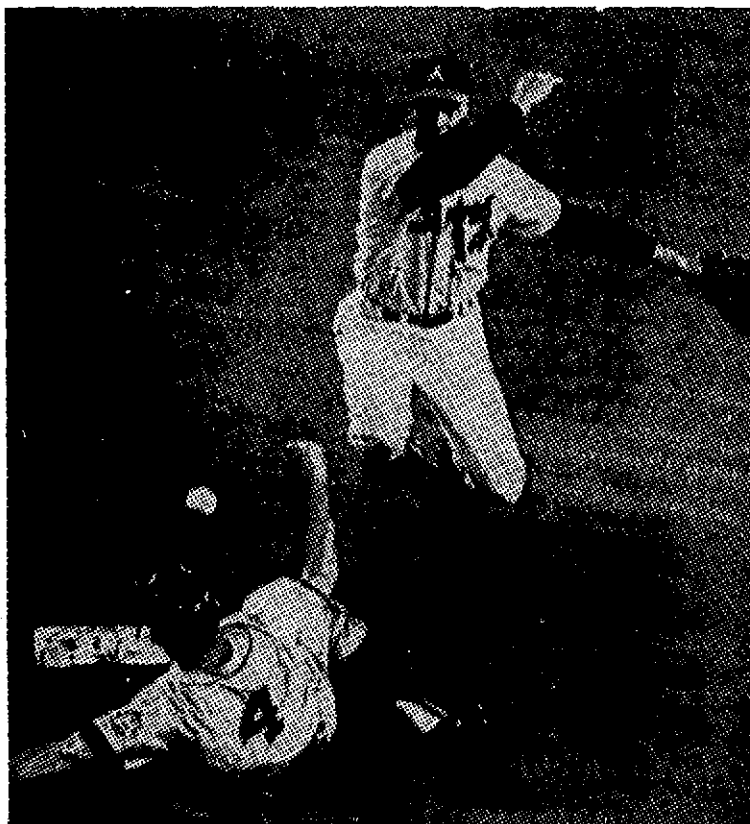

THE BOLSHOI BALLET? No, it's the Stirling, Scotland goalie attempting to block a shot by flinging himself through the air in a soccer match at Athens, Greece.

A BUM LEG doesn't stop Mark Russell, 8, of Fort McPherson, Ga. Stricken by a rare disease, Mark still can take his cuts as a pinch-hitter until his leg heals and he can discard his sling and crutch.

NEW YORK YANKEE rightfielder Roger Maris has some competition on this home run ball which just carried over the low right field wall in Yankee Stadium.

BASE BALLET—Atlanta Braves shortstop Woody Woodward strikes a classic airborne pose for a second as he forces out New York Mets' Ron Swoboda at second and throws to first to double off Ed Kranepool. But the Mets took it 5-4.

STEEPLECHASERS Ray Barrus (23) of Los Angeles and Jerry Riordan of Salem, Mass., found the going sloshy on this hazard of the 3,000-meter event. But there were towels, if not cheers, awaiting them at the end.

ROOM AT THE TOP—Wonderful Willie Mays, left, of the San Francisco Giants, continues to climb in the standings of all-time major league home run hitters. Willie slugged his 521st homer June 23 to tie Ted Williams for third in the all-time standings. Only Jimmy Foxx, center, former Boston Red Sox great, and Babe Ruth have hit more home runs than Willie. Foxx slugged 534, a mark Willie will probably surpass this season, while Ruth's 714 total appears to be far out of reach, even for Willie.

TWO DAYTIME NO-HITTERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In the last 10 years there have been 23 no-hit games in the major leagues but Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies is the only pitcher to hurl two daylight no-hitters during that time.

Bunning, when pitching for Detroit in 1958, no-hit Boston and in 1964, his first year with the Phillies, he hurled a perfect game against the New York Mets. Both no-hitters were day games.

Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers hurled a no-hitter in each of his last four seasons but all were at night. Warren Spahn pitched no-hitters for Milwaukee in 1960 and 1961, both under lights.

Virgil Trucks was the last pitcher to toss two daytime no-hitters in the American League. He did it for Detroit in 1954.

MISSING—Three young women from the Chicago area are still missing after vanishing while on an outing July 2 at Indiana Dunes State Park, near Chicago. The three are, left to right, Miss Ann Miller, 21; Mrs. Renee Bruhl, 19; and Miss Patricia Blough, 19. They were reported to have entered a boat containing three men at the park beach. Sheriff's deputies, state police and soldiers are searching for the women.

Republicans Trying for Comebacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine-teen former Republican congressmen, many of them pro-Goldwater conservatives, are making comeback attempts this year against Democrats who were elected to the House two years ago in the Johnson landslide.

Thirteen are running against the same Democrats who defeated them in 1964 and 16 of the 19 are competing in districts considered marginal because the incumbent Democrat won with less than 55 per cent of the vote.

Some Democratic strategists admit it will be an uphill fight to retain these seats, as well as the 47 other marginal districts the party now holds. Most of these were won in 1964 in areas which had been Republican for years.

In contrast, only one former Democratic House member — Charles O. Porter of Oregon — is trying to regain his seat. He is seeking the post being vacated by Rep. Robert B. Duncan, who is running for the Senate.

While the return to Washington of the 19 former GOP congressmen would not endanger the Democrats' 294-139 numerical majority, it could cut heavily into the party's working majority.

Because most Republicans frequently vote with Southern Democrats against administration domestic programs, replacement of 20 to 30 pro-administration Democrats by conservative Republicans could erase majorities for such controversial programs as the National Teachers Corps and rent supplements.

In five primaries this year, conservative former congressmen have overcome opposition of moderate Republicans. The five are Steven B. Derounian and John R. Pillion of New York, Gene Snyder of Kentucky, George A. Gooding of Pennsylvania and Peter A. Garland of Maine.

Snyder is running in Kentucky's new 4th District against a pro-administration state senator, John J. Moloney, while Garland is seeking the normally Republican seat being relinquished by moderate GOP Rep. Stanley R. Tupper. Tupper defeated Garland in 1962 when their districts were combined due to reapportionment.

Time Takes Longer in Land of America

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

In this land of America everything seems to move faster and faster, and even Time no longer "marches on." Instead it takes the appearance of a roller coaster ride.

Have you noticed the policy of many who feel compelled to "hurry up and wait" for something to happen? It's not their fault. Blame it on the time in which we live.

A waiting room can be as interesting or as frustrating as you are, what or who you are waiting for, and under what circumstances you find yourself there.

It is a wonderful opportunity to examine yourself and those about you, but how many of us do so? Usually, there are several stages of WAIT, not necessarily in the order of its initials. "W" is for Weary, for that we most certainly become, especially if the delay is extensive. "A" stands for Anxious, and it applies either to a child's outlook for Santa Clause or an adult's listening for a medical diagnosis. Both know what being anxious means.

The third letter, "I," can only stand for impatient. It seems safe to say that no one escapes this phase of the pattern, no matter how much inner strength or pocket book mysteries he has. And last, we come to the "T" for thought-provoking. This is where the true test of a person comes.

What kind of thoughts find their way to your mind when waiting is your unhappy lot?

If you are a "natural-born worrier," the longer the wait, the worse a tragic outcome will grow in your mind. This is also true if you are comparatively new at the waiting game.

Those a little more experienced will tell you that talking, reading, or thinking about something else is often beneficial. Look around you the next time you are in a waiting room. You are in a waiting room. Chances are that the woman doing handwork in a doctor's waiting room has a chronic illness, and the man reading a book in an air terminal is a seasoned traveler.

Time is so precious and we have such a little bit of it on this earth that it seems greatly extravagant on our part to waste it. WAIT is sure to make you

Weary, Anxious, and Impatient, but the Thoughts that waiting can produce in you can be your salvation or your defeat.

Note: If the above intonements give the impression that we have conquered the Mount Everest problem of waiting, take heart. It is just that. . . an impression. This writer despises to wait just as much as the next person.

House Tunnel Stretches to a Dead End

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tunnel stretches from a freight elevator 95 feet into a concrete dead end.

Unlike the adjoining pedestrian corridor from the Rayburn building to the neighboring Longworth House Office Building, the tunnel goes nowhere. It isn't used for anything either.

"It was put in initially at the request of the Post Office Department in case they wanted to put in a conveyor system" from the Longworth Post Office to the Rayburn building, says James H. Banks, second assistant architect of the Capitol.

"But they're not ready to use it," Banks added in an interview. "The volume doesn't justify it."

"This is the first I ever knew what that was there for; I often wondered about it," said House Postmaster H.H. Morris when told the architect's office said the corridor had been intended for a mail conveyor system.

"We wouldn't have been much in favor of it in the first place," Morris added. "They tried it over in the Senate Office Building but it just didn't work. Air currents would blow the letters off the belt. There wasn't any recommendation from us."

A Post Office Department spokesman concluded, "We could have suggested consideration that they might put something like that in." But he added: "It would be entirely up to the Capitol architect."

Any conveyor system using the tunnel would have to pass through a room that houses large heating and air-conditioning equipment in order to reach the Longworth Post Office two stories higher.

Didn't Practice What They Preach

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Several residents of Bush street petitioned the city recently to reduce the auto speed limit to 15 miles an hour.

The city agreed and police set up radar speed traps to enforce the new limit. They promptly ticketed four motorists.

The four live on Bush street.

Black Power Idea Could Bring Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Black power." It defies definition. But its impact on the civil rights movement and on American society promises to be profound.

The slogan came crashing into the lexicon during the civil rights march through Mississippi. "Say black power!" Supporters of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee shouted to rural Negroes. "Black power!" They shouted back.

What had been an idea in the mind of Stokely Carmichael, the new chairman of SNCC, had blossomed into a battle cry.

It was evident at once that part of the civil rights movement was undergoing change. John Lewis, who was ousted as chairman of SNCC by Carmichael in May, found himself out of step. He dropped out of the organization, saying he disagreed with its slogan. "I'm not prepared to give up my personal commitment to nonviolence," he said.

But the Congress of Racial Equality fell into line. It concluded its convention in Baltimore Sunday by adopting "black power" as the dominant philosophy of the movement.

"CORE will not initiate—and I emphasize that—any form of violence," said Lincoln Lynch, Associated National Director. "But when one is attacked he should defend himself."

"Nonviolence is another move to dehumanize the Negro man—to take away his last remaining right," Lynch said.

As if overnight, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, seemed middle-aged. The question now is whether the civil rights banner has been wrested from them by the younger and more militant.

300 Evacuate Chemically Sprayed City

ARGYLE, Minn. (AP) — Most of the more than 300 persons evacuated from homes in this northwestern Minnesota village after a poisonous chemical had been sprayed over it are expected to be home tonight.

Officials said the deadly parathion that had been used by a spray plane instead of a milder insecticide was believed to have been largely neutralized by washing-down operations by both volunteer firemen and individual residents.

Negotiations Resumed to End Strike

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Prodded by President Johnson for a prompt settlement, the Machinists Union and five major airlines resume negotiations today in an effort to end a strike that has snarled air travel in 231 U.S. cities.

Both sides appeared gloomy about prospects for a quick end to the crippling walkout by more than 35,000 mechanics and other ground personnel, members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

At Johnson's request, Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds called negotiators back into session. Reynolds said day and night meetings will continue as long as necessary and indicated the airlines and union are still far apart.

The union's chief negotiator, Joseph W. Ramsey, predicted the walkout "will last more or less indefinitely."

The strike against Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United Airlines began at 6 a.m. local time Friday. It quickly hobbled a vital segment of the nation's transportation industry, grounding thousands of businessmen, tourists and servicemen.

Together, the five airlines normally carry an estimated 60 per cent of the air passengers on some 5,000 flights daily.

The chairman of the airline negotiating committee, William J. Curtin, has described the union requests as unacceptable and criticized the union for breaking off negotiations Thursday, "18 hours before the strike."

The union is seeking increases totaling 53 cents an hour over a three-year period. The carriers have offered 30 cents an hour and a presidential panel has recommended raises up to 48 cents spread over a 42-month period. Top mechanics now earn $3.52 hourly.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is scheduled to return tonight from a trip to the Far East and presumably will take a hand in negotiations.

The Defense Department ordered that military aircraft be made available on a priority basis to assure that the tieup does not interfere with essential travel by an estimated 100,000 military and civilian personnel about to leave for, or just returned from, duty in Southeast Asia.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who headed the presidential panel, called anew Friday for the strike to be called off while federal mediation continues.

"Continuing the strike during the period of further mediation will only rebound to the discredit of the union because it cannot justify the economic loss to the country and the risks to the welfare of the nation," Morse said in a statement.

Party Set for the First GOP Primary

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Republican Party officials say they are ready for the GOP's first statewide primary election since 1958.

Truman Altemaier, executive director of the state party, said ballots had been ordered from the printer and would be distributed to county committees starting Friday.

He said the GOP will have about 370 precincts in the July 26 primary.

Gus McMillan of Sheridan forced the statewide vote when he filed for governor again. Winthrop Rockefeller, until he entered, Republicans had been in the contests, all on the county level.

The GOP will have more than 300 candidates in the general election.

Republicans used to nominate candidates for state office by caucus, but the state Legislature placed the GOP under a primary law in 1957.

Passengers Safe, Sound

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When Joseph Supsky Jr. and his 11-year-old son didn't return from their sail on Biscayne Bay, the Coast Guard in Miami was called.

A Coast Guard helicopter piloted by Lt. B.E. Murphy of Springfield, Mo., found the 14-foot sailboat Thursday becalmed, with both passengers all right.

Murphy maneuvered the helicopter over the sails and the breeze from the rotor got the boat going again.

Sulcer Will Help Advance Ark. State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kenneth Sulcer says he's making no bones about it—he supports university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro 100 per cent.

And, said Sulcer, he won't have to consult with any boards or state agencies before making such a recommendation to the legislature once he's elected.

Sulcer, one of seven Democrats seeking the governorship, was apparently shooting at other candidates who said they would support university status for ASC if it was feasible.

In a televised speech at Jonesboro, Sulcer attacked Ben Butler, mayor of Sulcer's hometown of Osceola.

Butler, Sulcer said, is a puppet for a group which "is desperately trying to further their control of the governor's chair by backing a candidate in this race."

He said Butler and Rufus Branch Sr. of Joiner are running the campaign of Frank Holt in Mississippi County. Sulcer called the two "puppets of the dying state political machine."

"Mayor Butler is president of the Osceola School Board, where he sells buses to the school district, in violation of state law," Sulcer said. "He is mayor of Osceola, yet he sells Osceola trucks and everything possible that will run through his business. This is a violation of law."

Butler, contacted at Osceola by The Associated Press, said he operated International Harvester Co. agencies and did business with both the school district and the city.

And, said Sulcer, he resented the fact that Holt campaigned through Osceola door-to-door. Sulcer said he tried to show personal respect by not making tours through the hometowns of the other candidates.

In other developments in the race, Sam Boyce pledged in a statement released by his headquarters at Little Rock to name someone from northwest Arkansas to the state Highway Commission if he is elected.

"I strongly feel that this entire northwest area, with its attractive potentials, can become a model of growth for the entire state," he said.

He said people in the area have told him their most specific need is a four-lane highway to connect Interstate 40 at Alma with Interstate 44 in Missouri.

Elsewhere in the Democratic contest, Holt campaigned through St. Francis, Poinsett and Cross counties; Dale Alford visited Cherokee Village, Batesville, Hardy, Conway, and Little Rock and North Little Rock.

Mrs. Jim Johnson went on television for her husband and spent most of her 15 minutes criticizing the Arkansas Gazette for calling Johnson "a terrible person" in his public life.

When Johnson was serving on the state Supreme Court, the Gazette found little to criticize, she said. The newspaper found many occasions, she said, "to praise his decisions without mentioning his name therewith and giving credit where credit was due."

Central Church of Christ Meet

Central Church of Christ, 10 miles south on Highway 29, will hold a revival meeting July 11-17 with Milton Peebles preaching. Services will be held each night at 7:30 o'clock.

U.S. Infantry Clashes With Cong Troops

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — More than 2,000 main force Viet Cong troops clashed today with an armored U. S. infantry force which lured the Communists from dense jungle into a big battle.

The sudden flareup in ground fighting after a 10-day lull was announced by the U. S. Military Command which also reported renewed aerial pounding of five oil installations in North Viet.

A U. S. spokesman said a Viet Cong force of at least regimental size hit an armored column of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division which had been put out on bail along a secondary road near the Cambodian border.

By prearranged plan, the spokesman said, U. S. forces immediately flew in several battalions of reinforcements by helicopter and hit the enemy force with pre-planned air attacks and artillery barrages.

The methods employed by the 1st Division forces were the newly developed "reverse ambush" tactics, used with success in the same area in Binh Long Province by the same American troops 10 days ago. They involve sending an armored column along a highway as a tempting target for an enemy ambush, then hitting it hard with helicopter reinforcements, air strikes and artillery.

The latest action broke out shortly before noon when the U. S. spokesman said, the Viet Cong ambush force hit an American armored motorized column moving along a secondary highway 12 miles southwest of An Loc, and about 43 miles north of Saigon.

The U. S. reaction force—helicopter-borne reinforcements, air strikes and artillery barrages—struck to turn the ambush into a trap of their own, the spokesman said.

Legislator's Pay Scale Going Higher

By RUSSELL LANE
CHICAGO (AP) — The pay scale for state legislators ated from $100 to $10,000 a year and it's going to go up, an Associated Press survey shows.

New York's legislators, by voting this week to raise their expense allowances from $1,000 to $3,000, reached the compensation level of $13,000—$500 more than in Michigan, where the salary was $10,000 and ex-

The House and Senate members in Albany, it is expected will keep their place at the top of the pay scale in 1967 with a $5,000 base pay boost, to $15,000, and $1,000 expenses.

But California's legislators, who made $6,000 and fringe pay this year, hope to jump to a $16,000 annual salary if voters approve a constitutional change allowing the legislators to set their own pay.

Michigan's Legislature tried for $17,500 next year, including $2,500 in expense allowance, but settled for $12,500 and $2,500.

Other high-population states generally pay legislators more than those less densely inhabited. And the states of middle legislator income expect to pay more next year.

These offer a contrast with New Hampshire, where a legislator gets $200 every two years, unless he's presiding officer of his house. Then, he gets $250. The lawmaker also gets a daily round-trip mileage whether he commutes to Concord or not.

In Wyoming, the base pay ceiling on a yearly basis is $240. This is figured on the basis of $12 a day during a session, with a maximum of 40 days each two years. However, a Wyoming lawmaker can claim $20-a-day expenses during the session, a rate that was raised from $12

Utah provides $500 a year plus $5 a day expenses while its biennial Legislature is in session. In North Dakota, legislators get $5 a day while in session, but they also get a $1,200 expense allowance for the session.

Nobody Says Boys to Be Home Xmas

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nobody has said yet the boys will be home from Viet Nam by Christmas—or even a year from Christmas, but optimism is in the air.

It is guarded, of course, and the State Department officials privately are counseling caution.

But at no time since the United States jumped into the Vietnam war has Washington seemed so confident. And the confidence starts at the top.

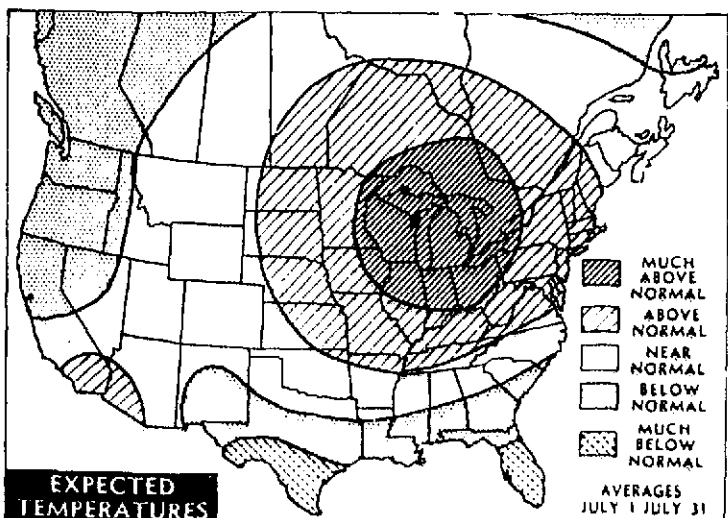

"Our diplomatic reports indicate that the opposing forces no longer really expect a military victory in South Viet Nam," a buoyant President Johnson told the nation Tuesday.

He was quick to add, "I am aware of the dangers of speculation," but it did not detract from what became the dominant theme this week. The tide has turned in favor of the United States.

Johnson has been optimistic before. For instance, he said last January in his State of the Union address: "The enemy is no longer close to victory. Time is no longer on his side."

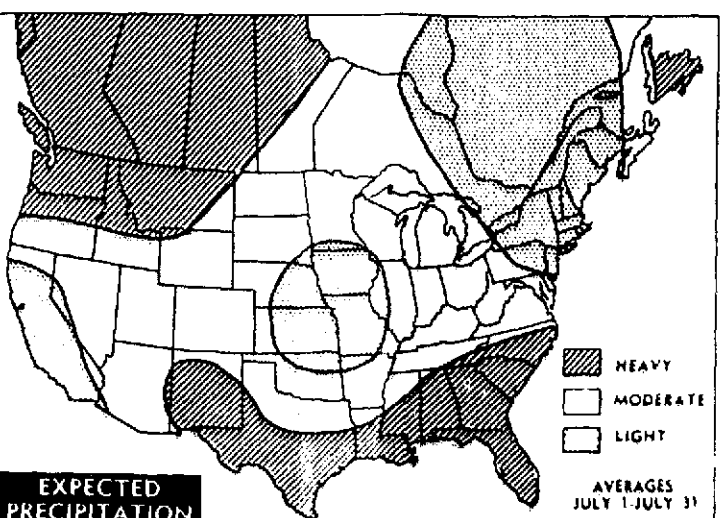

But this time a chorus of top administration leaders are blending their voices with the President's. And activity in the diplomatic arena appears to give solid substance to their long of cheer.

Jazzy July

Below-normal temperatures are the outlook for the Pacific Northwest, and the tier of states from the southern plains to the south Atlantic coast while the Northeast will be warmer than usual.

Maps show Weather Bureau's estimated forecast of average temperature, precipitation through July 31.

Heavier rainfall than usual is expected to come with lower temperatures in most areas. Precipitation will be on the short side in both the Northeast and central Mississippi Valley.
